Judy Howard, 18,
Miss Lincoln

By Len Colson

Judy Howard, a brown-haired beauty with a $64,000 smile, was named Miss Lincoln at the annual beauty pageant held at the Cornhusker Hotel Sunday night.

Judy, a graduate of Lincoln Southeast High and currently a University of Nebraska freshman, was speechless when the decision was announced but tear-filled eyes conveyed a message of gratitude when Marion Brayton, Miss Lincoln of 1959, placed the coveted crown of victory on her head.

As relatives and well-wishers crowded around, Judy called the moment the "greatest thrill of a lifetime."

Judy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe G. Howard of 2302 Howard, is 18 years old, weighs 110 pounds, stands 5 feet and three-fourths inches tall, and measures 34½-22½-36.

5 Finalists

She was named winner from 5 finalists in the pageant sponsored by the Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce. The 4 other finalists were Sandra K. Johnson, first runner-up; Judy Tenhuzen, second runner-up; Kolleen Kerr and Joell Anna Henderson, all University of Nebraska coeds.

Eleanor Billings, a brown-haired, hazel-eyed beauty representing East Hills, was named Miss Congeniality of the pageant, an award which is voted by the girls themselves.

Miss Howard, who represented the Legionnaire Club, will represent Lincoln in the Miss Nebraska contest at Columbus, July 1-2. The winner there will go to the Miss America contest at Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Southeast Graduate

Judy is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta at the U of N. While at Southeast High School she reigned as All-Sports Queen.

She has been teaching dancing for the past 5 years and used this talent to thrill the pageant audience with a ballet number to the tune of "Bell of the Ball."

Another highlight of the entertainment section of the pageant included a Chinese type rock-and-roll number by Miss Henderson, one of the finalists.

All of the girls competed in swim-suit competition, entertainment and evening gown competition.

150 Attend

Some 150 persons attended the pageant. Miss Omaha of 1960, Ann Anderson, was one of the notables present.

A party was held in conjunction with the birthday of pageant chairman Maynard Gottsch for all of the girls following the pageant.

The other girls in the pageant were Julie Anne Eckland, Janet Hoepner, Carolann Paulhamus and Jane Jeffrey. Bob Johnson was master of ceremonies at the contest.

The Weather

NEBRASKA: Partly cloudy to cloudy Monday and Monday night with showers and thunderstorms east and south portion. Locally heavy rains 1-3 inches southeast portion Sunday. Partly cloudy Tuesday with scattered afternoon thunderstorms extreme west. Cooler extreme east Monday and west and central Monday night.

Nikita Seen In Sour Mood On Eve Of Summit Parley

Paris (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev was reported in a bad mood Sunday and a new wave of pessimism swept diplomatic quarters in Paris on the eve of the meeting of the world's greatest powers.

Eisenhower and Macmillan, arriving in Paris, issued brief speeches carefully moderated to avoid roiling further the turbulent atmosphere resulting from the bitter Soviet-American exchanges over the U.S. spy plane incident.

But late in the day West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, returning to Bonn from meetings here with the Western Big 3, reported Khrushchev appeared in a "bad mood."

Following this, pessimism deepened as time seemed to be running out for a pre-conference meeting between Khrushchev and Eisenhower. Khrushchev had not taken the initiative in seeking a meeting with Eisenhower as he did in the cases of de Gaulle and Macmillan.

Possibly Khrushchev expected an American approach for an Eisenhower talk, and this may have been behind his reported dourness.

White House secretary James C. Hagerty implied that any initiative for an Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting would have to come from the Russian side.

There still were high hopes that a conference-wrecking slugfest would be avoided.

President Eisenhower, on his arrival by jet, expressed hope the conference can achieve a beginning toward removing sources of major world tensions. He pleaded for an end to "profitless bickering" and pledged himself to meet Khrushchev half way in every honest effort toward a genuine peace.

Macmillan, reaching Paris two hours later, noted that the Big 4 government chiefs could not expect to solve major problems in a single meeting, but might hope to "set in motion an orderly process of discussion and negotiation."

Crash Kills Former State Sen. Gillespie

O'Neill (AP) — L. G. Gillespie, 85-year-old former state senator, died late Sunday in an O'Neill hospital of injuries suffered a short time earlier in a two-car crash about 1½ miles north of here.

Investigators said the Gillespie car and one driven by Clarence Latzel, 30, of Ewing, collided.

Gillespie was a past noble grand, past district deputy grand master of the odd fellows lodge, had served 10 years as an O'Neill city councilman and was a former assessor.

Verwoerd Released

Pretoria, South Africa (AP) — Prime Minister Hendrik F. Verwoerd, shot twice by an assassin April 9, has been released from Pretoria General Hospital. There was no immediate indication when he would get back to his official desk.

The death raised the state highway fatality toll for the year to 73 as compared with 100 a year ago.

Lahmeyer Among Top Cattle 'Selectors'

By Glenn Kreuscher
Staff Farm Writer

Unadilla — Selecting choice calves and developing them into prime beef animals has been a well practiced formula for Herman E. Lahmeyer of Unadilla.

Each fall Lahmeyer purchases in the neighborhood of 1,000 choice calves. He likes to visit the herds and see the sires and dams of the cattle he buys.

To him, breeding counts and the kind a feeder takes home is more important than if he pays a cent or more extra per pound to get quality cattle.

'Calf Psychologist'

Commission men that have watched these operations for many years and have seen cattle from this firm repeatedly top the market call Lahmeyer a "calf psychologist."

Lahmeyer admits that cattle take special handling with tension and care of the animal as important as feed in getting good results. The first rule on this farm is never to let the cattle go hungry and when they reach full feeding the Lahmeyer barns are always filled with high quality feed.

This believer in purchasing calves has another good reason for selecting the 450 to 500 pound growthy calves for his program.

Two-way Market

He says, "It gives a man a two-way market. After you winter them you can sell them as top quality stockers or you can continue to feed them yourself."

To get along in the feeding business Lahmeyer says cattle have got to get good gains from the start. Many of his feeds are long time favorites with cattlemen but he terms a good protein supplement as "indispensable."

Folks that want to sell top quality feeder calves can take a lesson from Lahmeyer as he describes the kind of cattle he likes to see in a man's herd.

Plenty Quality

He says, "I like medium to large type cattle with plenty of quality and ruggedness

Depressed Areas Vote Explained By Rep. McGinley

Washington—Rep. Don McGinley of the 4th District cited reasons for his vote against the House of depressed areas bill.

The measure passed by a narrow 17-vote margin.

"This bill," McGinley said, "will cause further duplication of government services, such as the USDA rural redevelopment program and several federal loan programs.

"To do any good nationwide, this plan would take billions of dollars for many years."

"I would favor a more modest beginning based on more careful planning and with better assurance of the effect of the proposals."

Further, the Ogallala Democrat suggested:

"Pilot programs should first be instituted to determine what an approach like this would cost and to determine what permanent benefits could be expected."

and thriftiness. I want them short-legged, heavy boned, deep bodied with a good front and rear and well balanced."

They don't necessarily have to be fat to please Lahmeyer who puts the accent on quality. He says, "Too many times flesh can be mistaken for quality in buying cattle."

As Lahmeyer surveys feeding operations on his 400 acre farm, he feels there is opportunity for anyone today that still wants to get down and work.

Lahmeyer is a believer in livestock feeding associations and he says, "If the feeders hope to obtain favorable legislation and things good for their industry, they need to speak as a group and any man that feeds cattle can receive a great deal of benefit from belonging to his local and state organization."

Never too busy to back his belief with action, Lahmeyer serves many busy days as president of the Tri-County Feeders Assn., which serves Lancaster, Otoe and Saline counties.

Walking Woman Ignores Advice Of Foot Doctor

Denver (UPI)—Dr. Barbara Moore, undaunted by a foot specialist's advice that her feet are not built for walking, resumed her cross-country hike Sunday.

Saturday, the 56-year-old vegetarian took a day off to rest her feet and consult foot specialist Julius Toth. He told her she should "avoid walking."

But Dr. Moore, who has already covered some of America's most rugged terrain since leaving San Francisco, was up and off across the plains at 5 a.m. She said she planned to make "rapid time" now that she was out of the Rockies.

One of the most noticeable changes in farming practices is the increased demand for more than one irrigation well to a farm.

Many landowners have found that to do a good job of supplying water for their crops they need wells favorably located.

Several new wells were noted in the southern part of Saline County this past week with reports of several more soon to be drilled in this area.

Reported stocks of holdover hay are below last year. Hay supplies were depleted during the long feeding season and according to the Nebraska Crop Reporter, the May report showed supplies 42 percent below that on hand a year earlier.

The farmers method of selling dairy products is described by the Agricultural Marketing Service as a revolutionary change in the past quarter century.

This change has about put the farm cream separator out of business. Where once it was common for farm skinned cream to be sold and the skinned milk to be fed on the farm now whole milk sales are 10 times the poundage of cream sales.

Dairy officials credit the skim milk with containing the vital calcium and other mineral nutrients where 25 years ago there was no general appreciation in the nutrient value of skim milk.

The 22nd annual National Hampshire Meat Hog Conference will be held at Ak-Sar-Ben field July 31 to August 2. The program will include shows of breeding animals and market barrows, two sales of breeding animals, type discussions and a judging contest.

This will be the second time this national show has been scheduled for Nebraska.

The Tri-County Feeders Assn., which covers Lancaster, Otoe and Saline Counties, will be held at Syracuse May 23.

Certified seed growers are asked by County Extension Agents to submit applications.

16-Year-Olds Jailed; Found 'Very Drunk'

Two 16-year-old Lincoln youths were jailed early Sunday evening after they were picked up in a very drunken condition police reported.

One of the youths was so sick following the drinking bout he had to be carried to his cell.

Officers said it would probably be Monday before the youths would be sober enough to answer questions as to where they obtained the intoxicating beverages.

250 Attend Wesleyan's 'The Messiah'

More than 250 persons heard Handel's "The Messiah" as sung Sunday by Nebraska Wesleyan University's 40-voice mixed chorus and 8 student soloists.

Under Prof. Oscar Bennett's baton, the Passion and Resurrection portions of the choral work, ending with the "Hallelujah" and massive "Amen" choruses, were presented.

The 4 senior soloists were baritone Robert McMeen of Lincoln and Richard Hall of Chappell, tenor Lowell Gaither of Falls City and soprano Patricia McCaig of Lincoln.

Junior soloists were tenors Douglas Anderson of Wausa and John Lauber of Shickley, contralto Mary Boykin of South Sioux City and soprano Joyce Hartman of Council Bluffs, Ia.

Organist was Jerry Hohnbaum, York junior, and Janet Richey, Cozad junior, was pianist.

Model Plane Flying Won By Omahan

Dr. William Clark of Omaha took top honors Sunday in the first annual radio controlled model airplane flying contest at the LAFB.

Dr. Clark's F-51 Mustang model won the multi-channel class while an Explorer owned by Bud Atkinson of Kansas City, Mo. won top laurels in the intermediate class and an original model of Tom Williams' of Oklahoma City was tops in the rudder division.

Mickey Hester of Des Moines finished second and Dick Olson of Omaha third in the multi-channel division.

Williams followed Atkinson in the intermediate division and an Atkinson model placed second in the rudder division. Jerry Hakenson of Council Bluffs won third in the rudder class.

Don Svoboda of Lincoln won the spot landing prize as he landed his plane within 4 feet of the center of a 30 foot circle.

There were 35 entries from 5 states in the contest. Around $600 in prizes were awarded to the various winners.

Rev. Johnson Is Ordained

The Rev. R. Dale Johnson, graduate of Berkeley (Calif.) Baptist Divinity School and the University of Nebraska, was ordained Sunday evening at the First Baptist Church.

Dr. Arthur M. Clarke of Omaha, executive secretary of the Nebraska Baptist Convention, gave the evening sermon at the ordination.

Using Paul's words to the young preacher, Timothy, Dr. Clarke admonished the new minister to "teach with authority; preach with humility; and magnify his office and work."

FOLLOWING the sermon, Dr. Clarke conducted the ordination vows, and Dr. Arthur Slaike, pastor of the First Baptist Church, presented Rev. Johnson with the certificate of ordination.

Nearly 300 attended the ceremony and the reception following the service.

Birds, Bees And Boys

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Step outside, if you please, and take a deep breath of fresh air. You can smell the flowers blooming and everything about you testifies to the fact that the bleakness of winter is completely gone for another five months or so. This should put a new hope in your heart and new spring in your step. It also does a lot of other things.

It won't be long now before you will run across a bird's nest in many an odd place. One might be found just above the front door, in the eaves of the house or garage or almost any place. But one of the strangest places of all might be the ash tray in the family car. This is the way it was with one family. As it turned out, the "bird" that built the nest was a youngster of about five and green grass was the substance used rather than dead twigs, leaves, etc. The culprit wasn't discovered until he was in the process of sneaking out the back door.

An unusual bulge in the front of his shirt aroused the curiosity of his mother. Being naturally skeptical of the five-year-old, she called for a halt. Surprisingly enough, the lad did halt and examination revealed two fresh hen's eggs from the refrigerator tucked inside his shirt. Explanation demanded produced the fact that the eggs were intended, quite logically, for the nest.

This, in turn, led to explanation of the nest itself and its unusual place in the ash tray. The eggs couldn't have been forced into the ash tray but the mess they would have made of the back seat would have been a real challenge. Nor would they have hatched, of course, but the boy had the right idea and a little more knowledge with that imagination should get him by in this world in pretty good shape.

You'll find a lot of things taking on a different twist as the days roll on. No longer do you have to worry about the snow on boots. Taking its place will be sand in the cuff of the trousers and enough dirt in the hair to plant potatoes. We don't know why potatoes are always the thing to plant in such accumulations of dirt but it seems to be the accepted popular way of saying things. A child can understand the meaning of potatoes planted in his ears, for instance, but wouldn't catch the drift of things at all if you switched to turnips, carrots, etc.

Maybe you spent the winter trying to fig-

A Disappearing Concept

As James Reston writes in the New York Times, we can see the approaching disappearance of an administrative concept which has guided this nation for the past eight years. It is the philosophy of President Eisenhower which dictates that administrative diversity or "institutionalized presidency" is the road to progress and achievement.

Reston contrasts Eisenhower with such national leaders of the past as Jackson, Lincoln, Wilson and the two Roosevelts whose terms he describes as "personalized presidency." The current spy plane case pinpoints the ends of Eisenhower's philosophy—ends which he disapproves of in principle but sacrifices to his dependence on an administrative system in which he has faith.

The spy plane case increased international tensions, weakened the Western alliance and brought on administrative chaos. All of these things are foreign to the President's hopes and desires. They are the opposite of his desired goals. But they are the result of a policy which calls for a delegation of

Busy Trust Buster

Robert A. Bicks is a member of the Department of Justice whose specialty is the enforcement of the anti-trust laws.

He is a diligent man, and in 1959 brought the government's largest number of anti-trust actions than in any year since World War II. How many he will win is a figure that must wait the time and will of the courts. Suffice to say his diligence is bringing forth corporate complaints that he is too tough.

Assuming that the cases are substantial, the presence of so many are not cause for complaint. The Department of Justice is not attempting to be a regulatory agency. It is operating under laws that mean to keep competitive free enterprise in character, and not seeking to usurp control.

Price fixing and trust understandings destroy the health and vigor of free enterprise and are dangerous lures which encourage concerns to take the easy way out.

Urban Growth Still Swift

The 1960 census is still in the computing stage but it has gone far enough to verify certain trends.

One is that the cities are growing bigger and the rural areas are continuing to lose population. This is a process that has been going on for some while. But it is an accelerating movement carrying with it problems in readjustment that can no longer be treated as though they were transient.

Wonders Of The Universe

Americans plan to use solar energy.

Before this decade ends, man will be on the moon and once there he will have to move around. He can, of course, walk in his explorations but there will be times when mechanical transportation will be necessary. What form of vehicle will he use?

Due to lack of atmosphere on the moon, any type of fuel burning vehicle like an automobile with internal combustion engine, is immediately ruled out.

Some scientists, thinking about getting around on the moon, have conjured up some curious forms of lunar vehicles. One of the oddest is the "gyrobus" designed by Professor Hermann Oberth, an early pioneer of astrodynamics.

In appearance the gyrobus looks like a baseball stuck on a stick with the bottom of the stick flattening out into a tractor tread. It would weigh 10 tons (with the lower gravitational field of the moon this is only 3,200 pounds there) and stand 55 feet high. If you are wondering what keeps this vertical, the answer is a huge gyroscope contained in the ball to keep the device upright.

The tractor at the foot of the vertical column can move rather gingerly over the surface. The real cute trick about this device is that it can behave like a kangaroo and jump over chasms on the lunar surface. For jumping, the vertical column, or foot, is withdrawn into the ball. The astronaut, looking out, sets some values into a computer and at the precise moment the foot is suddenly pushed down by compressed air and the entire gyrobus takes off to jump across the gap. With the reduced gravity, it is possible to bridge a 325-foot gap. This "kangaroo" can jump to heights of 400 feet.

The air in the cylinder also acts as a shock absorber to ease settling down on the moon.

For power, batteries can be used or a large spinning flywheel can be utilized to store energy to permit traveling for a rather short time.

Professor Oberth's design, while quite well planned, is impractical at this time for several reasons. For one thing, this device weighs 10 tons. Also the device needs continuous energy to keep itself upright.

In both this country and Russia, scientists are working on a more realistic approach to getting around on the moon. The Russians have released pictures of a tractor which they contemplate using. Several laboratories in this country are concerned with details of a lunar vehicle. Dr. Robert Jastrow of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration indicates that the first lunar vehicle may be a small robot to be soft-landed on the moon within the next five years. While they do not indicate the power source for their vehicle the pregnancy) are true, this constitutes a shocking example of malpractice which the rest of the public has a right to know about. I have found that childbirth is too often treated with callousness by obstetricians. While on the one hand childbirth is regarded as a natural function for women, it is handled in a coldly clinical, mechanical manner without regard for the fears and joys, anxieties and hopes which make all the difference and an all-embracing love for the baby.

5.—Russian trade deals had a significant impact on even our best friend in Latin America, Brazil. Brazilian papers recently headlined with hosannas a paltry 330,000-bag coffee barter while giving no publicity to a 1,500,000-bag purchase by General Foods. Russia is trading wheat and oil for the 330,000 bags while General Foods is paying $60,000 cash for five times as much but, symptomatic of what is happening in Latin America, the Russian deal got the headlines in Brazil's papers and General Foods' purchase was blotted out.

In our society the isolation of young people from friends and family and from very young and the very old makes it particularly important that professionally trained persons administer, or at least take cognizance of the needs of the new mother.

So often the names of persons helplessly involved in tragic events are needlessly divulged in news stories. In this case, I feel that reporting the name of the physician may be justified.

Tripoli, Libya (UPI) — Two British petroleum men report they have found the remains of another member of an American "ghost" bomber crew which bailed out over the North African desert after a combat mission in World War II.

Last February, British petroleum men found the bodies of 5 crewmen.

The 6th body and wallets were about 38 miles northwest of where the previous bodies were found.

Dear Abby-

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You said in your column that you thought it was wrong for a fellow and girl to kiss and make out in a show. I disagree with you.

Nowadays parents are too strict and old-fashioned. With the H-Bomb ready to go off in our faces any minute, we young people should get in all the fun and loving possible. It may be our last chance.

LIVE TODAY

DEAR LIVE: That theory is as old as the "heels". The "live today—for tomorrow may never come" philosophy is dandy only if tomorrow doesn't come. So far, "tomorrow" has arrived on schedule every day without fail. Better think of another excuse.

DEAR ABBY: In a confidential message you attempted to give comfort to a reader who felt neglected and ignored. "Remember Whistler's FATHER," you said.

For your information, you don't have to feel sorry for Whistler's father. He was Major George Washington Whistler, one of the greatest construction engineers of all times. He designed and built the Trans-Siberian Railway for the czar of Russia in 1843.

The old lady merely "sat."

Sincerely yours,

ASK—
Dorothy Draper

Just as a gourmet drools over a perfect Sauce Bearnaise I always get a pulsating thrill of excitement when I walk into a house or apartment brimming with creative ideas.

And I had that happy experience recently. A friend of mine and I were invited over to inspect the apartment of a young artist who is a bachelor. He had been working evening after evening but hadn't given us any clue as to what he had done. When he opened the door and we stepped across the threshold, we gasped. Here was enchantment captured between four walls.

He had painted the entire entrance wall a lush scene of distant hills, green trees, a lazy meandering river and green grass and a fat balustrade that looked as if you could sit on it. A green cornice trimmed in white, with matching curtains to the floor gave further illusion of a window. Two small inexpensive chairs, painted gold and a tiny cafe table completed the picture. The floor of the foyer was the whitest white. He said he had bought inexpensive linoleum and had painted it with two thin coats of white enamel.

Then there was a stretch of natural flooring and a TREE, used as a leafy room divider. He had brought in a real little bare tree from the country, sunk it in pebbles in a heavy white jar, bought a tiny drill in the ten cent store and had drilled holes and stuck in artificial branches that would have fooled any woodpecker.

This is a one-room and kitchen apartment, remember, but doesn't it sound fabulous? Then our next

"ah" came from a whole curtain wall—turquoise and deep Mediterranean blue trailing clematis blossoms with green leaves on a white background. Umm! The walls were daisy-white. The rug was a snow-white Acrilan, the pull-out convertible sofa bed was covered in a blue-green tweed and over it was a life-size painting (he had painted) of a young girl holding a just-picked bouquet of vivid field flowers.

I won't go into details about the rest of the furnishings (which were in such good taste) as I want to tell you about the bathroom. A shower curtain hung on the regular rod. Then he had made a straight valance with tie-back curtains on each side of the boldest, biggest red and white check.

We all can't be artists, true, but there ARE scenic wallpapers we can use, and plenty of ideas to copy. But the important thing to use is your IMAGINATION. So put it to work NOW!

Mrs. E. McD. asks:

"Could you tell me what color accents to use in my bedroom? The drapes are plain mint green and walls are a paler shade of mint. The furniture is light maple."

Dear Mrs. E. McD.:

You could use practically anything for an accent color with your pale shade of mint

green . . . royal purple, tangerine, white, black, geran-ium pink or yellow.

The bidding:

1 ♠ 1 ♠ Pass Pass
3 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass
5 ♠ Pass 6 ♠ Pass

Opening lead—ace of diamonds.

I was playing with Johnny Crawford in the match between Italy and the United States in Como in 1958 when this hand came up.

I was South and decided to open with one club. A good case can be made for opening ing with two clubs, even though there is no assurance of game. It is partly a matter of style whether or not such hands should be opened with a forcing bid. Under the circumstances, since Crawford does not come from the Milquetto school, my bid may have been more apt.

Forquet bid a spade, which was passed around to me, and I bid three clubs. Crawford came to life with a three notrump, but I jumped to five clubs.

True to his reputation, Crawford now bid six. He had properly appraised the great power of the ace of spades and king of diamonds, though his hand didn't look like much otherwise. There were twelve easy tricks when it turned out (not surprisingly) that Forquet had the ace of diamonds and king of spades, and the clubs broke.

It was a tough slam to reach, and it is not surprising that Belladonna and Avarelli, who are usually excellent in slam bidding, failed to teach this one. Their bidding went:

SOUTH	West	North	East
1 ♠	1 ♠	2 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	4 ♠	Pass

The club bid, in the Roman Club system, is a three-way artificial bid. It may consist of a minimum hand with balanced distribution, a strong hand of the notrump type, or an enormous hand with game-going potentialities.

After Avarelli's two heart bid (questionable by American standards) Belladonna identified the big type of hand by jumping to four clubs. When Avarelli signed off with four hearts, Belladonna bid five clubs, and there it played.

Now if we had had a few more hands like this one, we might even have beaten the Italians.

West Will Apply Summit Emphasis To Firm Berlin Stand

By Herb Altschull

Paris (P) — The Western powers were reported determined to tell Soviet Premier Khrushchev any effort to force them out of West Berlin poses a serious threat of armed conflict.

Authoritative informants said they think Khrushchev is aware of the risks involved but that the Western powers want to make it eminently clear in order to guard against any Soviet miscalculation.

These informants said the West can only guess at how far Khrushchev will push his threat to Berlin at the talks here. But they said, too, they doubted Khrushchev would leave here threatening to take one-sided action in Berlin that would force a showdown.

The summit will probably end, these informants said, in agreement to turn over the Berlin and German problems to a commission of experts from the Soviet Union, the United States, Britain and France. Representatives of West and East Germany would be available as experts to help the commission.

Forceout Threat

Khrushchev has threatened to sign a peace pact with the East Germans and force the Western garrisons out of Berlin.

President Eisenhower and his Western partners were reported ready to tell Khrushchev that if he goes ahead and signs a separate peace treaty with East Germany they will not recognize its validity.

The West maintains the Soviet Union is obliged under postwar agreements to assure free access of members of Western military missions to West Berlin, 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain.

Other officers named included: Dale Cotner of Red Cloud, vice president; Barney Dolan of Omaha, secretary; and Leonard Smith of Lincoln, treasurer.

Elected to the executive board were Donald Knapp of Hastings, Victor Shadoff of Kearney, Lyman Huntington of North Platte, Gilbert King of Norfolk and Daryl Reher of Grand Island. Richard Neilsen of Fremont was elected delegate-at-large.

Mrs. Mabel Armstrong of Lincoln will head the auxiliary for the coming year. Also elected were Esther Peters of Omaha, vice president; Arlene Reher of Grand Island, secretary, and Althea Rice of Fremont, treasurer. Leta Eckhardt of Seward was elected delegate-at-large for the state organization.

The two-day session was attended by about 275 delegates from 22 cities over Nebraska.

March Retail Slump Blamed On Weather

Taking its cue from the bad weather, the slump of Nebraska retail sales continued through March, with a 1.0% drop over a year ago and a 1.7% decline over the previous month.

The May issue of Business in Nebraska, prepared by the University of Nebraska department of business research, reported that the western cities—Scottsbluff, Alliance, Chadron, and Broken Bow—showed increases over a year ago.

Scottsbluff was up 10.6%, Alliance, 4.4, Chadron, 18.0, and Broken Bow, 20.8.

Fremont Leads

In the unadjusted city indexes—including bank debts, building activity, retail sales, electricity and gas consumed, water pumped, postal receipts, and newspaper advertising—Fremont showed the largest gain, up 9.9%.

Other cities reporting gains were: Lincoln, 9.3; Chadron, 9.0; Nebraska City, 8.8; Holdrege, 8.5; Scottsbluff, 8.1; North Platte, 5.1; McCook, 4.1; Omaha, 3.9; Fairbury, 3.5; Kearney, 3.0; Broken Bow, 2.7; and Alliance, 1.2.

Show Decline

Cities reporting declines were: Hastings, 4.7%; Norfolk, 2.0; York, 1.4; Grand Island, 0.9; Falls City and Columbus, both 0.1.

Here's how March retail sales in larger Nebraska cities (adjusted for seasonal and price changes) compared with the same month last year:

Omaha, down 2.4; Lincoln, up 2.8; Grand Island, up 0.4; Hastings, down 4.4; North Platte, down 3.6; Fremont, up 0.2; Norfolk, down 0.5; Scottsbluff, up 10.6; Beatrice, down 4.2; Columbus, down 1.8; McCook, down 3.4; York, down 4.4; Kearney, down 3.7; Alliance, up 4.4; Nebraska City, down 6.4; Fairbury, down 7.6; Falls City, up 5.8; Holdrege, down 3.4; Chadron, up 18.0, and Broken Bow, up 20.8.

Bids also have been asked for a new post office, previously authorized, at Palmer, with a June 20 closing date.

MISS FAIRBURY

Carrying Fairbury hopes in the July "Miss Nebraska" contest will be Miss Diane Milne, Fairbury College sophomore from Endicott. She was chosen Saturday—her 19th birthday. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Milne. Runner-up was Miss Becky Traum of Fairbury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Traum. Both girls won scholarships. (Lincoln Star Special.)

3 Post Offices For Nebraska

Wichita, Kan. (AP)—Regional postal officials reported new post offices have been authorized for Arapahoe, Elwood and Wymore.

Signing of contracts also was reported, under the department's commercial leasing program, for a previously authorized post office at Sutton. Leases run for 10 years, with 10-year renewal options.

Bids also have been asked for a new post office, previously authorized, at Palmer, with a June 20 closing date.

Alliance Loses

Alliance (AP)—Unofficial census figures indicate that Alliance and Box Butte county were hard pressed to hold their own population-wise the past decade.

For Box Butte county, the unofficial 1960 count is 11,557, compared to 12,500 in 1950. In Alliance, the unofficial figure is 7,777, compared with 7,891 in 1950.

SHOWERS IN WEATHER PICTURE

Milder temperatures are expected for the eastern half of the country except for slightly cooler weather in the lower Lakes area. It will be warmer in Montana. Widely scattered showers and thunderstorms are likely from the mountains of western Montana southeastward through the Rockies to the central and southern plains. Showers are also forecast for the western Ohio and Tennessee valleys and the northwest coastal regions. (AP Wirephoto Map.)

State Bankers Appointed To Centennial Celebration Posts

William N. Mitten, chairman of the board of the First National Bank of Fremont and J. R. Kenner, president of the Thayer County Bank of Hebron are chairman and vice chairman respectively to head a Nebraska organization among bankers for observance in 1963 of the Centennial of the National Banking System, which initiated the dual system of federally and state-chartered commercial banks in the United States.

Ben H. Wooten of Dallas, Tex., is chairman of the Centennial Commission of the American Bankers Assn., which is planning a nationwide observance to be climaxed at the 1963 A.B.A. annual convention in Washington, D.C.

Mitten and Kenner will assist in planning Nebraska's participation in the Centennial Observance.

During the next 3 years, an organized campaign will be carried on by the banks to include such events as the observance of Bank Week and a centennial celebration in 1963.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—with surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be

—WINS 5-1—
Newk's Return Is Big

Cincinnati (A) — Burly Don Newcombe and strikeout specialist Bill Henry teamed up to pitch Cincinnati's Reds to victory over Philadelphia by 5-1 Sunday in the second of a doubleheader.

The Phils went on a hitting binge in the opener, whacking the Reds 14-3 for the 5th time in 8 games this year.

The first game was marred by a free-for-all in the 8th inning that emptied dugouts of both squads.

Frank Robinson, leading figure in the first-game brawl, and Gus Bell headed the Reds' nightcap attack with a home run apiece.

Bell doubled in two runs and scored himself on a single by Robinson.

It was Newcombe's first appearance in 15 days since flake-up of a spring leg injury.

In 6 innings he doled out 4 harmless hits and struck out 8 Phils—6 of them in a row.

At start of the 7th however he faded fast. Pancho Herrera banged a double, and Harry Anderson pinch singled him home.

Team Competition May Steal Show

By Al Beebe

Outstanding team competition may steal the spotlight from sizzling individual races in the Class A portion of Nebraska's 58th Annual State Track and Field Championships this week.

Columbus, loading the entry list with 22 qualifiers and the season-long favorite, will face severe team competition from Lincoln High, Omaha Tech and defending champion Omaha Central.

Boys Town and Beatrice, each with sparkling stars, own outside chances of taking home the crown.

The team race boils down to this:

Columbus can make a couple mistakes, lose a few points now counted upon and still win.

Any of the challengers will have to put together breaks and peak performances to snare the title.

A victory for Columbus would be its first.

Columbus Points

Coach Dell Miller's Discoverers look for certain points from defending 440 champ Tom Saunders in both the quartermile and 220, sprinter Dick Goc, miler Gary Duranski, weightman Ted Engels, hurdlers Jeff Mills and Gary Bivins, and pole vaulter Joe Matejka, plus at least one relay team.

Sprint duels between Lincoln's Bobby Williams, Goel of Columbus and Saunders in the furlong, Hastings' Steve Regan, Tech's Fred Farthing and a group of North Platte runners should be hot.

The sprints are lacking defending king Roger Sayers of Central, out with a leg injury.

Bob Hohn of Beatrice, the premier hurdler who is hoping for a day without wind so he can get some records in the book, has tough opposition. Five others have also bettered 15 seconds in the high hurdles.

The 880 should offer a repeat of last week's blazing Big 10 finish won by Norfolk's Bud Bettin over Jim Kettelhut of Alliance.

Erwin Cheatum of Boys Town or Lincoln Southeast's Bob Campbell could sneak in ahead of both.

Competition in the mile and the field events will also be torrid, but the relays should put the icing on the cake.

State marks were approached in all 3 relay events last week, and the 2-mile record was bettered by Lincoln High's sparkling 8:21.3.

The Links and Tech were both caught in 1:31.6 for the 880 distance, only 7 above the record. Boys Town's mile quartet ran 3:26.8, compared to the record 3:25.

The meet runs Friday and Saturday on the Memorial Stadium track.

HOW THEY QUALIFIED

Columbus 22, Omaha Central 13, Lincoln 15, Omaha Tech 13, North 13, Lincoln Southeast 13, Beatrice 12, Omaha Benson 11, Kearny 10, Hastings 10, Sidney 8, Grand Island 6, Alliance 7, Gering 6, Lincoln 5, North Platte 5, Nebraska 5, Lincoln Northeast 5, Creighton Prep 5, Omaha Westside 2, Omaha South 2, City of Nebraska 1, Bellevue 1, South Sioux City 1, Fairmont 1.

RETURNING CHAMPIONS

Tom Saunders, Columbus, 440; Bob Beattie, high and low hurdles; Gerald Schulte, Boys Town, 1 in shot put; Dave Haggland, Omaha North, high jump.

'Baby Birds' Sweep Bosox

... BARBER, ESTRADA STAR

Boston (A)—Baltimore's "Baby Birds" swept a doubleheader from Boston 2-1 and 7-4 Sunday that featured a 3-hitter by Steve Barber and clutch relief from Chuck Estrada.

Barber, 21-year old swift southpaw who vaulted from Class D to the summit, doled out only singles to the Red Sox in the opener.

Estrada, 22, preserved the nightcap triumph for Hal (Skinny) Brown as the Orioles ran their winning streak to 3 and posted their 5th without a loss against Boston.

Replacing Brown with the bases loaded and none out in the 6th, Estrada struck out Lu Clinton, retired Don Gile on a popup and fanned pinch-hitter Ted Williams.

Estrada struck out 5 in the 4 innings he worked although he weakened for two hits and two runs in the 9th.

Rookie Marv Breeding opened the first game with his first major league homer off loser Jerry Casale, and Clint Courtney drove across the deciding run with a 7th inning sacrifice fly.

The 11-hit Yankee attack was highlighted by homers off the bats of Gil McDougald and Tony Kubek. Early hopes of a Senator comeback were snuffed out by 3 New York twin killings.

Ditmar lost his bid for a shutout when Earl Battey rapped his 5th homer for Washington in the 7th. Jim Lemon led off the 9th with his 8th circuit clout of the season.

YANKS CLUB NATS

Washington (A) — Elston Howard blasted a bases-loaded triple as New York erupted for 5 runs in the first inning and coasted to an 11-2 victory over Washington behind Art Ditmar's 6-hit pitching Sunday.

Roger Marv Breeding, making his second start after 7 relief appearances, got into trouble right away when the Yankees loaded the bases on a hit by Kubek and two walks.

The 11-hit Yankee attack was highlighted by homers off the bats of Gil McDougald and Tony Kubek. Early hopes of a Senator comeback were snuffed out by 3 New York twin killings.

Ditmar lost his bid for a shutout when Earl Battey rapped his 5th homer for Washington in the 7th. Jim Lemon led off the 9th with his 8th circuit clout of the season.

Daley Three-Hits Rivals In Opener

. . . CHITI SETTLES SECOND

Detroit (P) — Bud Daley hurled a brilliant 3-hitter in the opener and Harry Chiti turned in a dandy clutch-hitting job in the nightcap enabling Kansas City's Athletics to sweep a doubleheader from the Detroit Tigers by 5-0 and 5-4 Sunday.

Bob Cerv joined Chiti as a hitting hero, slammimg 3 tremendous home runs. He hit two of them in the first game as Daley allowed the Tigers only one real scoring threat.

The veteran lefthander yielded a first-inning scratch single to Eddie Yost, then nothing close to a hit until the Tigers put together a pair of singles in the 9th.

Chiti, a burly catcher signed off the Detroit sandlots, drove in 4 of Kansas City's

Links Carry City's State Meet Hopes

By Larry Novicki

Three Lincoln High teams will carry Capital City hopes in state championship meets this week.

The Links' track, golf and tennis teams are top contenders in each field.

A 15-man track crew is tabbed as the darkhorse that could steal the show. Lincoln lads have posted the state's runs in the second game with a two-run homer. A double and a single.

His single was a game-winner that came with two out and two on in the 10th.

It scored Dick Williams, who had worked reliever Paul Foytack for a two-out walk and moved to second on a single by Bill Tuttle.

Cerv, who hit a couple of tape-measure solo home runs in the opener, accounted for the other Kansas City run in the second game with a lead-off home run in the 4th inning.

The twin victories stopped Detroit's winning streak at 4 and ended Kansas City's troublesome road trip on a pleasant note.

The A's had lost 11 of 13 on this trip before the sweep achieved before 35,206 Briggs Stadium spectators.

Chiti's two-run roundtripper and Cerv's home run had Dick Hall started toward his 4th straight pitching triumph in the nightcap.

"I did a bang-up job on him—he held him to something like 24 points and 24 rebounds."

HOW 'BOUT THAT

By Bob McCoy

Star Sports Staff Writer

Look At The Rougher Side

To hear Bob (Doc) Harry tell it, you'd think a basketball player would need judo lessons before setting foot on a court.

Harry, Nebraska's bulldogging center for 3 seasons, has seen plenty of the roundball sport's rough side.

Harry's jobs (rebounding, keeping the opponent's big man away from the basket, defense, etc.) weren't as glamour-filled as a scoring role, but Doc wouldn't have it any other way—now.

Any regrets? "Only that I didn't learn how to be tough a little sooner," the big fellow laments.

Boxing Gloves Method

"They oughta have the freshmen put on boxing gloves and elbow pads and just bang each other around," Harry says jokingly.

"That's one way to toughen 'em up for guys like Bridges (Bill Bridges of Kansas) and Wilt (Chamberlain) when they start playing varsity ball as sophomores."

Harry picks Wilt as the toughest big man he's faced: "When you're up against him, you're forever ducking away from elbows."

Elbow-Weight Combo

"You can have scorers," Harry continues. "But the man who's going to beat you is that big guy with the elbow and weight who knows how to use them."

When the big guy can also shoot, there's big trouble. Harry recalls one such instance against Kansas and Bridges.

"I did a bang-up job on him—he held him to something like 24 points and 24 rebounds."

would boost the total to around 35 and probably enough to take the cake.

The LHS undefeated golf squad is the team to beat this Friday and Saturday. The tennis team has lost only once this year and should put up a strong defense for its state title.

Pius X is rated a cinch to retain its state Class B golf crown.

Southeast carries the Capital City banner in baseball May 24. Northeast was eliminated by Boys Town Friday, and Lincoln High isn't entering the tourney because of Inter-City League commitments.

Charlie Gordon's Southeast

9 is idle this week, but 6 other games are on tap.

Northeast entertains Pius X Tuesday, travels to Boys Town Friday and returns to host Omaha South Saturday.

Lincoln High hosts Omaha Benson Friday and goes to Omaha Westside Saturday. Pius X plays its second game here against Omaha Cathedral.

One golf match is slated, that being Holdrege at Pius X Thursday.
